Training Events at Home & My Ongoing Internship Away

GRACE FONTENOT'S MONTHLY UPDATE

MARCH 2017

Dear Family and Friends,

I am excited to announce that I have moved back to Wichita, Kansas and am once again working from the Justice For All home office! My recent Louisiana trip was a huge success! Here are just a few highlights from the events we put on:

- March 7: It was a joy and honor to speak to 35 students at Iron Will Enterprises Home School. This is the school from which I graduated, a place that in many ways molded me into the Christian and pro-life advocate I am today.
- March 10: 110 students attended our presentations for St. Edmund Catholic School's religion classes. They were very attentive and some of them expressed interest in future pro-life seminars and even in full-time pro-life work.
- March 14: 15 people attended the workshop we held at Nicholls State University. Responses from participants were encouraging. Here are three of my favorites:

"This program has made me more confident and passionate in approaching my fellow classmates and Nicholls students to discuss and engage in [the] abortion discussion." – Taylor

"The speakers were amazing. I've been to many talks about abortion and I have already learned new things." – Brennan

"I think this workshop was very helpful. I learned so much today and I feel this workshop will help me talk more freely about [my pro-life beliefs.]" – Akadya

- March 15&16: JFA's first-ever outreach event at Nicholls State University outreach was held over two days.

Our team, along with Nicholls State Students for Life club members, had many great conversations with pro-choice advocates on campus. Hearts were changed and many seeds were planted through conversation. One pro-choice advocate even said, "I'm so glad that I stopped to talk to you today."
