

Mentoring the Masses

Helping JFA Equip 124 People as a New Mentor

GRACE FONTENOT'S MONTHLY UPDATE

MAY 2017

Dear Family and Friends,

Olivia, Kayla, and Shannon: These are just three of the students I had the chance to influence as a first-time JFA mentor in Fort Collins, Colorado, last month. These young women were changed and emboldened by the mentoring process, but that wouldn't have been possible without the rigorous preparation I received prior to JFA's Colorado events.

In the weeks preceding our team's mission trip to Colorado, my fellow intern, Moriah Newhouse, and I were working diligently, preparing ourselves for the new, stretching, and exciting opportunity of leading a mentor group in JFA's Abortion: From Debate to Dialogue seminar. During the week that JFA was in Colorado, I had the privilege of working with three mentor groups. Because of this, I got to work more closely with the participants we were training, both during each seminar and at our outreach events. Guiding participants through JFA's method of hands-on learning was an incredible experience. I was also thankful that I could be a greater asset to our team on this trip than before. By becoming a fully-trained mentor, I helped the JFA team equip a total of 124 people in just one weekend! What an incredible blessing, and what a humbling experience.

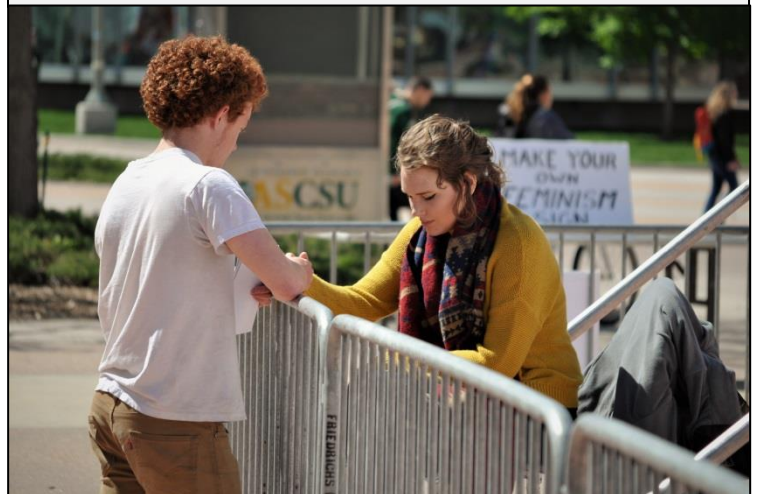

In an upcoming newsletter, I'll share more about Olivia, Kayla, and Shannon. You'll read how mentoring helped them find answers to their own questions first and then emboldened them as they witnessed another student thinking through those same questions in his conversation with me at JFA's outreach to Colorado State University (CSU).

For the sake of His sorrowful passion,

Grace Fontenot

UPDATE ON MY SUPPORT RAISING-EFFORTS

As of May 25, I have reached 53% of my support-raising goal. I want to thank my donors from the bottom of my heart for partnering with me in my mission to make abortion unthinkable with Justice For All.

If you have not done so already, please prayerfully consider joining my monthly support team! (See enclosed form.)

JUSTICE FOR ALL - TRAINING THOUSANDS TO MAKE ABORTION UNTHINKABLE FOR MILLIONS, ONE PERSON AT A TIME.
