Training thousands to make abortion unthinkable for millions...

At JFA, we prize one-to-one conversations and the opportunity to help pro-life advocates develop skills for one-to-one conversations. What isn't always obvious when you look at stories of those conversations is a different sort of story—what it took to bring those conversations into being.

Every semester, I look with pride at the list of high-quality events we've just completed across many states, awed by what JFA's staff, volunteers, and supporters were together able to accomplish with God's help. Spring 2016 was a good example, as you'll see in this Impact Report highlighting our work across nine states, including 12 seminars, various presentations, and 16 days of outreach on nine campuses. Our passions for more conversations and more advocates animated and emanated from every one of these events.

Thank you for your generous gifts to JFA to help us continue to work to make abortion unthinkable. We're honored to serve alongside you.

- Steve Wagner, Executive Director

...one person at a time.

Each conversation we create and each advocate we prepare carries a unique story. The events we produce to help advocates have conversations also carry their own unique story—the story of a team tirelessly seeking to make abortion unthinkable, one person at a time. Here we highlight a bit of that story with a list of recent events, punctuated by quotes and photos.

January 15-March 15: Design of Two New Exhibits
March 1-April 10: Construction of Two New Exhibits
March 31: Test of the Structure of the New Exhibits

Note: In addition to planning events and giving leadership to JFA, Paul Kulas and I led the JFA team in the design, construction, and structural testing that enabled us to display each of our new large-format exhibits for multiple days in April and May. Jeremy Wheeler and Jon Wagner worked many hours in the warehouse with Paul building signs. All of our training staff contributed ideas, gave feedback, and shouldered various day-to-day tasks for Paul so that the exhibits could be completed. You can learn more about funding the new exhibits at www.jfaweb.org/invest. Look for pictures of the new exhibits in a future letter, at www.facebook.com/trainthousands, or at www.jfaweb.org/blog.

OTHER EVENTS AND LOCATIONS

In addition to the events listed above, JFA trainers gave presentations in Sheboygan, Wisconsin (Jeremy Gorr), Valley Center, Kansas (Joanna Wagner), Wichita, Kansas (Tammy Cook), and Prescott, Washington (CK Wisner). Steve Wagner led an interactive seminar in Washington, D.C., and Rebecca Haschke led an interactive workshop in Norfolk, Nebraska.

MORE ONLINE: UNFORGETTABLE CONVERSATIONS

At the heart of all of these events are unforgettable conversations in which we seek to change hearts and minds about abortion. You can find stories of recent conversations at www.jfaweb.org/spring-2016, along with more quotes and photos illustrating the impact of our spring 2016 events. One story linked there is CK Wisner's story of a precious conversation she had with a young woman she calls "Jamie" — a story JFA will feature in its June 2016 letter. Thank you for partnering with JFA as we create events that make it possible for more advocates to have more conversations. Your gifts are especially helpful during these summer months, as our team focuses on planning a full slate of events for the fall!

- Steve Wagner, for the JFA Team

April: Workshop in Kansas City Preceding Outreach at University of Kansas

"So helpful and practical as an introduction for preparing believers to begin a loving conversation with those who are for abortion." - Pastor Chris (above, left)

April: Outreach at Colorado State University with JFA's new "Stop and Think" Exhibit (Catherine Wurts, left)

Before the seminar in D.C. concluded, students were already defending the unborn on Facebook.
