JFA and “The Power of One”

Dear Mission Partners,

My church has recently been talking about “The Power of One.” This phrase refers to the differences one person can make in the lives of many. This concept really came alive for me this summer when I heard the story David Lee shared in his message that accompanied JFA’s July receipts. In this newsletter, I’ll recap the story and share some thoughts about it.

This month has been filled with mission work at JFA, but not just here in America. God has opened doors to bring JFA materials to the Southeast Asian country of Nepal!

Like many of you on my support team, I have special ties to this region. When I was twenty years old, I went on a mission trip to Nepal and witnessed firsthand the false gods and extreme poverty. The need for the Gospel is great in this part of the world.

Here is the Nepal story from our Executive Director David Lee:

JFA staffer Jacob Burow recently met Kacie,* the daughter of Nepal missionaries. She was on her way back to Nepal to teach students and adults about abortion. Below is her shortened post-trip report:

“Thank you for your prayers during my time in Nepal! My trip was a huge success... JFA's Exhibit brochures were a huge hit! Everyone wanted to take them home. There is a small, grassroots pro-life movement starting [in Nepal].”

While there, I was able to speak to two youth groups about abortion.”

Kacie has real passion for training people in Nepal about abortion and to help the fledgling pro-life movement in Nepal have the best materials and the best training possible. Back to her report:

“We visited churches in...many other villages, speaking to 10 churches altogether. These groups varied in size from 30 to 100 people... I also spoke in some classes at 2 different high schools. Surprisingly, many children were interested, and they especially enjoyed the pictures and models.”

We hope to train Kacie this fall to take back more than just our materials to Nepal! *name changed

This is just a single example of “The Power of One.” One girl was able to share the truth about abortion and the hope found in Christ with so many people.

Your support is training thousands to make abortion unthinkable for millions (around the world), ONE person at a time! Please consider making a special gift to help me train students like Kacie who will take JFA materials into countries like Nepal and train others around the world!
