

“Thank You for Equipping the Younger Generation”

We were given a whole day to equip students at Ellerslie Mission Society in Windsor, Colorado.

Finally we were able to resume our in-person workshops in October! For the first time since COVID-19 lockdowns began, I traveled to Colorado, where we worked primarily with high school and college students.

It was great to once again speak to people face-to-face and also let them get some face-to-face practice. I was blown away by how many people were willing to come to our events despite the shadow of COVID-19, for which some of the events required masks and social distancing.

We equipped almost 100 people in three days! Here are some of the comments from those who attended:

It was awesome! Y'all did a wonderful job! I learned so much and can't wait to use these new skills!

- Lauren

Abortion is probably the biggest burden in my life, ever since I was little. This helped me a lot and pushed me to do more about abortion and to truly take a stand.

- Kristianna

Thank you so much! I learned so much today and feel much more solid in why I am pro-life and how to be there for those in difficult pregnancy situations. I'm already praying that God will give me opportunities to use what I've learned. Thank you for training the younger generation to be vessels God can use in more ways!

- Hannah

I loved this training! It was so helpful to learn how to reach out with love and truth to others.

- Maddie

Thank you all so much for coming and doing the training. I'm always so blessed and challenged every time I go through [JFA's training]. I'm excited about putting this into practice and getting more involved.

- Lexi

It was very eye opening as far as how many resources are available. I also appreciated the fact that conversations like these don't need to be scary. We just need to be open.

- Terrell

These high school homeschool students came from all over the Denver metro area for our workshop.

It was great to give the students lots of hands-on practice that gives them confidence to actually have conversations about abortion with their peers.

Colorado Christian University in Lakewood, Colorado required social distancing and masks for all participants, but thankfully not while we were teaching!
