

Ready to Grow as a Pro-life Ambassador This Spring?

You, your family, friends, and church need to be involved in a JFA training seminar (training part 1) and outreach (training part 2) this spring. Let me explain:

Tempe, AZ Arizona State University	San Luis Obispo, CA Cal Poly San Luis Obispo	Santa Barbara, CA UC Santa Barbara	Denver, CO Metro State University
Official schedules for all of these events will be included next month.

Personal View / Church Stance	Reasonable Action Step
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pro Choice • I don't like abortion, but I will not judge others who have abortions. • Abortion should be safe and legal. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Come to the training to hear our perspective and to hear our purpose directly from us. • Come out and engage us in dialogue about the important issue of abortion.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pro-life • It is not our place to take a public stand on abortion or put time and energy into pro-life outreach. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Realize that you are actually pro-choice. You are "personally pro-life," but you really want people to choose for themselves. Come to training to get a fair hearing of our purpose.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pro-life • Action is necessary. • I don't agree with the method of action that Justice For All uses. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Come to the JFA training and give us the opportunity to convince you that our methods actually work. Come out to campus to engage people or at least to observe.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pro-life • Action is necessary. The particular action and philosophy of JFA is effective and loving. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Help us network for the March event. Come to training so you are more prepared. Learn from each dialogue, and learn to make an impact in your own sphere of influence.

"I am so excited about the possibility of working at another JFA exhibit and hope to get my home church involved with this powerful ministry. As Christ's body, churches must stand for and communicate truth to a lost world, and JFA provides an amazing opportunity for Christians to translate concern into action. Before laws can be changed in our country, personal opinions must be changed, and nothing transforms hearts like the truth."
—— Kristin Darr, Focus on the Family Institute, Fall 2007

It will take an eternity for the unborn to defend themselves.

Something To Consider

"The abortion situation in this country is either bad or bad!"

In an effort to build common ground, I often reason with people that the abortion situation in our country and throughout the world is a bad situation any way you look at it. After hearing this, people, both pro-life and pro-choice, are a little confused. I go on to say that the abortion situation is bad either way because either millions of people are working long hours to save unborn babies that are not human, or over one-million innocent human beings are being killed each year in the U.S. by abortion (almost 50 million since 1973). Either pro-choice people need to stop allowing the killing of innocent children, or if unborn babies are not fully human, pro-life folks need to find something more productive to do because there are many problems in this world and many legitimate human beings to defend already. That is why the question, "What is it?", in reference to the entity in the womb, is the most important question in the abortion debate. My goal is to make the central question of the abortion issue very clear to people by focusing on the question, "What is the unborn?" As Greg Koukl says in Precious Unborn Human Persons, "If the unborn is not a human person, no justification for abortion is necessary. However, if the unborn is a human person, no justification for abortion is adequate."
