

September 10, 2008

Fellow Tar heels,

Hello! I hope things are going well in beautiful Chapel Hill. I wanted to write a short letter vouching my support for Justice for All and their vision for defending life.

JFA is a pro-life organization based in my hometown and is coming to UNC's campus this fall, however, they need people like you to be a liaison. They are coming to UNC in late October so we must move quickly.

Why should you join them? They are a unique organization that approaches the abortion issue from a caring angle. Their goal is to, in a loving way, get dialogue started that uses reason to point out the misunderstandings that cloud the abortion issue. They believe the only way to stop abortion is to lovingly change hearts and minds.

Justice For All seeks to train thousands to make abortion unthinkable, one person at a time. Their pre-outreach training seminar is called "Abortion: From Debate to Dialogue".

I personally know many of the people who will be coming to UNC and have seen how they approach the topic, and trust me, they do it in a caring but convicting way. I hope you will help them out!

Please use your influence by introducing them to your ministry leaders, Pastors, and friends in your community.

You can reach Jonathan Wagner, campus advance worker for Justice For All, by calling him at 800.281.6426 or by email: jwagner@jfaweb.org.

Defending human value together,

Lizzy Bruce

UNC Class of 2006