

"I don't really even believe I matter." - Kansas University student

Do you have family or friends who may also be interested in saving lives?

Would you introduce us so that I can share JFA's mission with them?

Dear Friends,

Did you know "morning sickness" is not limited to just mornings?

We've been living again (thankfully) through the realities of first trimester pregnancy! Brit is starting to come through the worst of it, but she is still pretty green.

As it has for many of you, this economic downturn has affected my day job, which is still carpentry until my full JFA missionary support level is reached. The construction industry is pretty slow. Work has been sporadic. Yet we can still testify to God's goodness through it all. We have food on the table, a roof over our heads, and grow more confident everyday that the Lord will provide for the blessing of my growing wife and our growing family, and help us build our JFA financial support team.

By joining our prayer and/or financial support team, you have increased our joy that the Lord is going to send our family down a new and exciting path - one in which we are completely dependent on His provision alone! You make this life-saving ministry possible for which we cannot thank you enough!

Please read the enclosed story about one young man I was able to share the joy of Christ with at the KSU campus.

This work is not possible without your support!

Support Raising Update:

- ▶ I now have 34 supporters on my financial support team and many more committed to praying. Praise God for His provision!
- ▶ I am currently at 32% of my support raised.
- ▶ I have 4 support dinners planned as of right now and several families praying about what they can do to help.

- ▶ Our 3rd child doesn't yet need a car seat (he or she has a womb seat), but we'll SOON need a family car big enough for 3 car seats! We have a little time to be cautious shoppers, but pray God's blessing for a good vehicle at a fair price.
- ▶ Please pray the Lord would sustain me through the rigors of support raising, keeping me close to Him and trusting in Him alone. Pray especially for my time management as I juggle work, family, support raising and renovating our home.
- ▶ Please pray for Brit as she carries new baby Nels and also cares for Israel (3) and Helen (1). Brit's amazing -- please pray for her!
- ▶ Israel and Helen are so precious! Pray they will follow Jesus from an early age and love the Lord all their lives.

Also, Brit and I have been approached about doing a television interview about our pro-life work for a station in Athens, GA. Please pray for us as we seek to do God's will and prudently follow the opportunities He presents to us. This is all for Him, after all!
