Dear Family and Friends,

What could be more rewarding than helping children?!

At the 100-hole Golf Marathon on June 7, 2008, I'll be playing for Justice For All (JFA), an organization that helps save children like Katie (right).

I'll compete not only for the lowest score, but more importantly to raise the most money possible for JFA to also train students like Nicole to save children.

*This month [January 2008] a baby is due to be born whose mother had scheduled an abortion... Another baby's life was saved because I [was trained by] Justice For All. I'll send you a picture of the baby when he or she comes!!
-Nicole*

Next year JFA hopes to teach 2,000 students like Nicole to share the truth about abortion in a Christ-like manner with thousands of their friends and families.

In 2008-2009 JFA will give these trained students the opportunity to show and tell more than 300,000 high school and college students the truth about abortion.

Please take a few minutes to read more about JFA's amazing ministry in the enclosed flyer.

So many people lose - so much is lost in a single abortion. And over 3,700 unborn children lose their lives daily in the U.S. by abortion!

The obvious question is how much is it worth spending to save even one of these lives?

Far more than I personally could ever give, which is why I'm asking you to financially partner with me to help JFA reach children and families like Katie.

Use the enclosed response form to sponsor me in JFA's 100-hole golf marathon on June 9th to raise much needed funds for JFA's training program for the school term 2008-2009.

Your generous gift will enable us together to make a difference for children!

Sincerely,

Travis Phillips

Amy saw the Justice For All (JFA) Exhibit at the University of North Texas (UNT), three months before she learned that her roommate was pregnant and considering abortion.

Amy learned how to use JFA's small, handheld Exhibit brochure to share the truth about abortion with her roommate.

Three years later she returned to the Justice For All Exhibit at UNT to share this picture of her roommate's daughter with the JFA director, saying:

"Meet Katie*. She would not be alive today if [JFA] had not taught me how to make abortion unthinkable for my roommate."
*Not her real name.
