

You're Valuable

Jordan Newhouse ~ November 2015

JUSTICE FOR ALL

Dear Family and Friends,

The unborn are valuable human persons, but how can anyone see the value of the unborn until she recognizes her own value? Earlier this month, at Justice For All's outreach event at the University of Oklahoma, my goal was to share the message in this poem with the students I met (including those pictured here).

Jordan Newhouse

You're valuable...

...not based on how you treat me or how you define yourself
...not based on your attitude or your intelligence
...not based on what has hurt you or what you believe
...not based on the sign you're holding or the clothes you're wearing
...not based on who you love or who you hate

You're valuable because you are a human being created in the image of God!
