TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

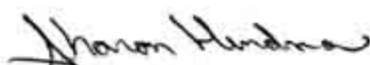

I am writing to share my experience with the Justice for All campaign at Colorado State University. The Alpha Center has a student organization office on the campus. For the last two years we have supported and participated in JFA's presentation on campus. We have been very pleased with the results of their efforts.

First of all let me state how pleased we are with the way all the JFA staff and volunteers present themselves. They are calm, precise and caring. They do not try to argue. They simply share the truth in ways that are kind and informative. The display is graphic and very difficult for some to deal with. Students are challenged by what they see. Some are angry and vocal. Others are sad and cry. Others realize for the first time what abortion really looks like. How many lives have been saved by these displays? How many young men and women have changed their thinking about abortion? If the answers to these questions were only one then the effort has been worth it.

We have had no negative responses toward our pregnancy center but have instead seen an increase in clients, who have questions, want information about post abortion healing, or come in to get help for their current situations.

Don't be afraid of having these displays come to your college campus. Join forces with JFA and be a part of educating and changing hearts. They are doing a wonderful work. I hope they can continue to come to Fort Collins, and I would highly recommend that you consider their efforts to come to your campus.
