Dear Pastor:

Please allow me to take a few moments of your valuable time to introduce to you David Lee and Justice For All. Justice For All is an organization that attempts to bring the reality of the abortion question to college campuses around the country. But it is much more than that. Justice For All is a group of devoted Christians who bring Jesus Christ into the hearts and minds of students on these campuses.

I met David several years ago when he brought the Justice For All exhibit to the University of Texas at Austin. Frankly, I was blown away. Yes, their exhibit is graphic. But the exhibit grabs everyone's attention and becomes the basis for discussion. This is where I believe JFA is unique. I have watched them in action and I have seen them engage students with the truth about abortion in a very loving and caring way, completely respectful of each individual as a child of God. Their goal is to change students' hearts about the culture of abortion in our country and they are doing so one student at a time. Even more importantly, in many cases they have led students in our colleges and universities to Jesus Christ through their dialogue. In thirty-one years in ministry I have never seen anything like JFA. Our Vestry at St. Francis Episcopal Church has chosen to give JFA a significant portion of our annual budget for ministries outside of our own parish.

When David contacts you I would urge you to give him the opportunity to make a presentation to you and to your congregation. My parish was deeply impressed and I believe yours will be too.

Sincerely in Christ,

Reverend Len Giacalone
Rector
