

Engaging the Culture

Tammy Cook's Monthly Update

February 2017

In this month's letter, JFA's Executive Director, Steve Wagner, explains one of our major goals for 2017 and how you can participate in helping us reach that goal. He outlines additional resources in the accompanying Resource Bulletin (green sheet).

Most of our conversations with pro-choice advocates are held at outreach events on college campuses, but it is not an easy task to arrange outreach events. We continue to trust God to work out the details, but we would appreciate prayers that God would help us to solidify and promote our events far in advance. This would help us reach more volunteers in each community which will result in more conversations.

Thank you for providing support to help JFA engage our culture and save precious lives of unborn children.

In Christ,
