

Wichita or Bust!

Building Momentum for the Big Move

TIMOTHY BRAHM'S MONTHLY UPDATE

OCTOBER 1, 2012

Dear Friend,

I am very encouraged by the momentum I'm experiencing in my support raising. Six families and individuals have joined my support team since my August trip to California.

I'm also excited by JFA's decision to allow me to move to Kansas once I hit 65% of my support-raising goal. I'm at about 51% right now. I'll continue working toward my goal of 100% when I move to Wichita, but the prospect of making the move soon is thrilling to me. I am looking forward to working more closely with my colleagues and being able to spend more time training pro-life advocates.

To those of you who are on my support team, thank you very much for your generosity and commitment to help me change hearts and save lives. I am notified by e-mail when JFA receives gifts of support for my work, and I am grateful for each one. Also, I want to say a huge "Thank you" to everyone who has been praying for me.

Without God's blessing, our work is in vain.

I'm looking forward to getting back on the road with JFA in just a few weeks. I will be in Oklahoma from October 20th through the 27th. I'm particularly looking forward to having the chance to mentor students and help them learn how to effectively defend their pro-life views. This month I will also be preparing to speak on pro-life arguments to the youth (and hopefully some of their parents) at my church in early November.

In Christ,
