

University of Central Oklahoma

Update from Jacob Burow - November 2011

Greetings in the name of Christ!

I am writing from our home office in Wichita, Kansas, where we just returned from the University of Central Oklahoma. We are preparing to leave in a few short days for Oklahoma State University.

I am the Site Manager for these two events. My job, along with the Training: a facilitator, is to ensure that our trainees have the best possible experience.

In the picture above I am mentoring a group of students at Community Christian School in Norman, OK. I always enjoy working with high school students and helping them be prepared for the outreach experience.

The lady pictured lower left is pro-life, but she was lacking in knowledge about fetal development and abortion procedures. I spent time helping her understand abortion better, and she was disturbed by the details of how abortions are performed. She left thanking us for being on campus.

As soon as I asked Shane (above) what he thought of the exhibit, he pulled out his phone and showed me a picture of an ultrasound. His wife is pregnant with their first son. He spent four years in the Marine Corps, and he is close to graduating from college now. We discussed the abortion problem in America, and I trained him to talk more effectively about the issue. I also gave him a brochure, encouraging him to share the truth about abortion with his friends.

Former staff member Laura Beeson (previous page) spent a long time talking to the students who were protesting our exhibit. Amazingly, there was no shouting or yelling the whole time! This is common when our trained people listen to the opposition. Another thing I love about JFA is that we don't have to yell to be heard.

Above, Jacob Nels uses a JFA Exhibit brochure to dialogue with a student. They spent nearly an hour asking questions of each other and listening to one another.

We not only listen one on one, but we also give students the opportunity to voice their opinions publicly on our Free Speech Board and during our Open Microphone session. Of course these tools give us yet another opportunity to engage participants in one-on-one conversation.

I am so blessed to be a part of this ministry. Thank you so much for your support! I have only a little support left to raise, and then I will begin full-time work with JFA. Please pray that those whom I ask for support will respond affirmatively.

Blessings,

Jacob Burow
