

“Love says it is good that you exist...”

REBEKAH DYER'S JFA UPDATE

DECEMBER 2024

Dear Friend,

“Love says it is good that you exist, and in so far as I am able I will contribute to your happiness, your existence, your flourishing.” (Jason Lepojarvi)

Thank you for supporting my work for another year so I can help others to see the existence of other human beings as incredible gifts to be loved and protected.

Fall Event List

August 24-28: I flew to Nebraska and spoke in two of our pro-life training seminars. My team and I then went to Wayne State College and had conversations with students for three days.

October 5: Justice For All's seminar, Abortion: From Debate to Dialogue, took place at The Gathering Church in Mira Mesa. Over twenty people attended.

October 7: My team and I had conversations with students at Cal State San Marcos.

October 8-9: My team and I had conversations with students at MiraCosta College in Oceanside. A group of students protested us both days holding up sheets in order to block our display. We were still able to have many good conversations both days!

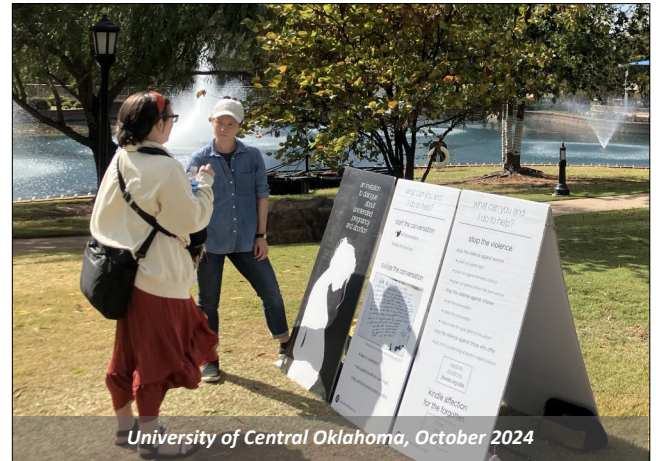

October 18: I led a two-hour pro-life apologetics workshop at Jim and Jennifer Beitel's home in San Diego.

October 28-29: I mentored high school students helping them engage students at the University of Central Oklahoma in Edmond. I also had conversations with students there.

November 5: On Election Day, I led an outreach event at Cal State San Marcos to start conversation about abortion. (San Marcos, CA)

November 7: I spoke at an apologetics group at Emmanuel Faith Community Church in Escondido giving practical tips on how to have productive conversations about abortion.

November 17-20: I went to Kansas and Missouri to help lead two pro-life training seminars and to have conversations with students at Johnson County Community College.

In Christ and for His glory,

Rebekah
